MR. W. R. PHILIPS DEAD.

HE PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Paralysis of the Heart Causes the Death on Church Street—Suffering of His Life and Family.

William Reese Phillips, one of Atlanta's best and most extensively known citizens, passed away yesterday about 2 o'clock on Church street.

Paralysis of the heart was the cause of the death.

Mr. Phillips was seventy-four years of age and for some time past has been somewhat infirm.

Twice he has been stricken with paralysis but both times recovered and each time grew stronger again.

Within the past few months he began to show signs of weakness.

Yesterday about noon he was walking along Church street when a feeling of weakness came upon him suddenly. He realized that he could not walk further and entered a residence near the death quickly came.

The news of his death was received with regret throughout his large circle of friends.

Mr. Phillips was a native Georgian and was born in LaGrange where he passed his boyhood days and prepared himself for his business career—a career which was one of success.

In Griffin he began his commercial life, entering the dry goods and grocery line with a wholesale house. He was prosperous and prominent and quickly became one of the most popular merchants in central Georgia.

From these he immediately around him he was a great favorite and for six years was mayor of Griffin.

In 1870 his business house burned down and Mr. Phillips sustained a heavy loss. He then moved to Savannah, where he entered the cotton business. During the war he owned the Newton Manufacturing Company—two cotton factories, and the Ocmulgee Manufacturing Company and the Heald county mills.

From these he furnished large supplies of goods to the Confederate government.

After the war in 1865, he moved to Atlanta, and for years Phillips & Planders, wholesale and retail grocers, on Whitehall, were extensively known. Three years passed in that firm and Mr. Phillips retired from active business. Subsequently he took a contract for the iron work in the Kimball opera house.

Mr. Phillips was a gentleman of great liberality, and was always ready to help those in need. During the six years he was mayor of Griffin he gave every dollar of his salary to charity, through a committee of ladies. He was devoted to his family and reared a large family. His wife, who survives him, is Miss Key, a niece of Bishop Key. He leaves five children, Mrs. Planders, W. R. Phillips, Jr., T. J. Phillips, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Myers, of Chicago, and Mr. H. D. Phillips.

The remains will be laid to rest tomorrow in Griffin. The remains will leave the late residence, corner Forsyth and Luckie streets, at 12 o'clock and be taken to the union passenger depot. The following gentlemen have been requested to act as an escort:

Henry Banks, Sr., Colonel E. N. Broyles, Hon. J. E. Brodsky and Mr. M. Coker, Sr. The pallbearers are W. W. Boyd, Mr. Shelby, John Lloyd, George W. Parrott, George Hoppie and Joseph H. Johnson.

THE TOBACCO REBATE AGAIN.

The Big or a Lumped Number of Small Packages Will Be Accepted.

According to the tobacco reduction clause in the tariff bill the 2-cent rebate is made only on an unbroken package or packages whose total weight must not be less than 250 pounds.

By this it will be seen that a dealer or manufacturer may claim rebate on one big package or a lumped number of small ones, as he chooses.

The tobacco can be weighed only on the 1st day of January, and not the day before or after. A person who wishes rebate must present a duly sworn and valid reason to Collector Johnson before the weight of tobacco weighed after January 1st will be accepted.

BRUNSWICK'S PROGRESS.

Colonel Goodyear Collecting Valuable Statistics.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., December 22.—[Special.] At the direct trade convention Brunswick will be represented by Hon. C. P. Goodyear. He is collecting facts and statistics that will incontrovertibly prove that the results of this convention, if its objects are consummated, will be the south's golden opportunity and that Brunswick, from her natural advantageous situation, deep water and magnificent harbor should be the port selected.

Col. in the Machinery.

LA GRANGE, Ga., December 22.—[Special.] A young man by the name of Reeves had his hand very badly cut in the machinery at the cotton factory the other day. Dr. F. M. Hildley, the factory physician, dressed the wound, and at last accounts the young man was doing well.

Overcoming Prejudice.

Prejudice is a sad trait of human nature. A person whose mind is bent on bias does himself great injustice. Said a sick man, whose blood seemed on fire from the effects of blood poison, "I can't help myself; I have tried three or four remedies, and they did me no good. I believe all blood purifiers are humbugs."

"Do you believe all physicians are humbugs, too?" asked the writer. "Yes, for I have heard three different doctors, and only grew worse under their treatment. I have made up my mind my case is incurable and death inevitable."

However, the writer, who was a friend of the suffering individual, at last succeeded in overcoming his prejudice and persuaded him to give Dr. John Bull's Sarsaparilla a trial. He commenced its use with no faith at all, but good effects soon followed, and its continuance brought complete relief. Reader, go thou and do likewise.—Independence Press.

THE GREAT RUSH

CONTINUES AT HOYT & THORN'S.

And They Reduce Prices on Fireworks and Christmas Groceries.

The McKinley tariff. As much as we dislike to, we propose commencing Monday to reduce the price on mixed nuts to the low price of 17 1/2 cents per pound. Now don't miss this. We have the finest, large crisp malaga grapes in Atlanta. We will sell oranges cheaper than any house, considering size. We will give you the best fancy French candy, 3 pounds for $1. Plum pudding 35 cents per pound. We are already prepared for an indispensable adjunct to a good Christmas dinner. We have more of that extra quality mince meat in glass jars at $1 and $1.25 per jar. We will sell the best citron in Atlanta, 25 cents per pound. We reduce the fancy price of London layer raisins to 17 1/2 cents per pound, and 15 cents for large fancy cooking raisins. Lemon and orange peel reduced to 35 cents per pound. We reduce the price on lemon and vanilla extracts from 25 cents to 20 cents. Our store is headquarters for XXXX confectionery sugar, for icing, for candy. It is the only sugar that produces a French style candy. Halloween dates are reduced from 15 to 10 cents. Seedless raisins from 30 to 25 cents. Fancy Jordan shelled almonds from 75 to 60 cents. These, you know, are holiday prices; avail yourself of them. If you want some fancy holiday wrappings, come to our store. We also reduce the price on all sizes Christmas tree candles from 40 to 30 cents per box. These prices are, in the parlance of the day, snags. For this week we also reduce the price on all fancy extra heavy syrup, the goods, such as peaches, pears, plums, apricots, etc., 3 pound cans, to $1.50 per dozen, worth $1.75 per dozen in New York.

Now, don't forget these prices. You will lose money if you do. We will have as many fancy, dry, dressed turkeys and as fine crisp celery as our trade demands. We want to buy your order for both. Just think of a retail grocery store selling in the day, and at night, and during the week, goods nearly $3,000. We want to make it $2,500 on the 24th; so come along and help swell the amount. We want it understood also, that we carry over no fireworks this year. Make your own price; the goods will go. We will give you 1000 round candles for 50 cents per dozen, after you purchase $1.00 worth of miscellaneous fireworks. Punk free to all who buy fireworks from us. P. H. Snook, 33 Whitehall street.

We answer unhesitatingly that advertising does pay. And you would agree with us, had you seen the crowd that filled P. H. ATLANTA, GA., DECEMBER 23, 1890.

Cotton, Wheat and Silver.

There is a phase of the silver question that is of vast interest and importance to the cotton planters of the south and the wheat growers of the west. It is a phase, too, to which they have never given fair and careful consideration. This is the intimate relation which exists between the price of silver and the price of cotton and wheat. It is only recently, indeed, that the farmers of the south and west have had an opportunity of studying for themselves the practical operation of these relations.

On the 12th of July the present silver law was passed. The price of silver bullion went up to $1.15 and $1.20. There was an immediate response in the price of wheat, which went up to $1.06 a bushel in Chicago, and in the price of cotton, which sold for 11 cents a pound. When the price of silver declined to $1 an ounce, wheat declined from 15 to 18 cents a bushel, and cotton went down to 9 and 9 1/2 cents a pound.

This little episode might seem to be very unimportant, and yet it is full of meaning to those who have cotton and wheat to sell. Let us look into the matter a little. A loss of 14 cents a pound on a crop of 8,000,000 bales of cotton, or 3,600,000,000 pounds, amounts to $90,000,000 taken from the pockets of the planters. A loss of 15 cents a bushel on a crop of 400,000,000 bushels of wheat means a loss of $60,000,000 to the farmers.

Here is the plain and practical result of the attempt of our so-called American statesmen to arrange our finances and our currency to suit the views of the British. But this is not the whole result of the engrafting of the British policy on our own. England demonetized silver because her business men found it an easy and a practicable method to swindle India, Egypt and Russia. The United States followed suit because, in 1873, the British influence was paramount in the treasury department and in congress. The full history of the demonetization clause has never been written, but enough of the facts have leaked out to show how British agents lobbied it through.

England coined silver money for India and Egypt. She buys the bullion at a discount, and then coins it at a gold value for her eastern dependencies. She imports two-thirds of her bread food, and one of her most important industries is the manufacturing and handling of cotton. Silver has now been demonetized in the United States for seventeen years, and during each of those years England has saved and the American producers of wheat and cotton have lost on an average at least $125,000,000 on their crops.

The farmers of the west are beginning to open their eyes. This silver question is by far the most important that is now before the country. It has been muddled by the politicians, but at last the people are beginning to see clearly where their interests lie. There is but one solution of the silver question, and that is free coinage. There is but one remedy for the financial stress that overtakes the country every fall, and that is a simple act placing silver bullion on an equality with gold at the government mints. The arguments and protests of the so-called financiers of the east are not worth the wind required to give them utterance. This is a government of the people, and the people are in favor of free silver.

Raiding the Pension Agents.

It is doubtful if Secretary Noble's efforts to cut down the enormous fees paid by government pensioners into the treasury of the pension agents will meet with success. Admitting that the secretary is sincere in his desire to bring about certain reforms in this notorious department, its great and constantly increasing business offers such inducements to the money sharks in and out of the government's service, that reform seems almost impossible under the present administration.

The army of attorneys and general pension agents has become so formidable that every projected reform is met with bold and insolent protest. The cry is now, "No attorneys, no pensions," and even the soldiers, in whose behalf the pension business is supposed to have been created, have in many instances been gulled by this cry, and have joined the ranks of the men who have been systematically robbing them for years. Secretary Noble's recent order to the commissioner of pensions is a straightforward and emphatic document which is meant as a rebuke to the pension agents and a benefit to the soldiers. It is as follows:

With a view to greater efficiency in the adjudication of claims under the old law in cases where no attorney has been employed, you are directed to detail a competent assistant chief of division, with such clerical force as may be necessary, to examine all such cases on file. Those found complete must be placed on the completed files, and when not complete claimants must be fully notified as to what evidence is required to complete their claims. When you have created the necessary force to perform this work you will place communication to the honorable secretary of the interior the name of the assistant chief of division charged with this duty, with a statement showing the number of clerks employed under him; also report when the work has been completed, the number of cases found and the disposition made of them.

It is against the above order that the pension sharks have entered a loud protest, and they are now making desperate efforts to retain the confidence of the clients they have successfully swindled. The order should have the desired effect. But under the present administration it is likely to create another class of "agents," who in some way will manage, as Raum and his men have done in the past, to reap the same profits from the management of pension claims.

The past history of the pension office is against it. The people will have no confidence in it until it has a thorough overhauling, and that will not be accomplished for a year or more to come. As long as the present inducements are held out to pension agents, just so long will they be on deck and reap their share of the millions which the government appropriates for the benefit of those who can get their hands in the treasury.

A New Banking Scheme.

Mr. Edward Atkinson, one of the leading economists of the country, has outlined a new banking scheme—an elastic banknote currency which will adjust itself from time to time to all the requirements of trade.

The plan proposed is to authorize banks in every state, under proper regulations for inspection and security, to issue notes to the extent of 75 per cent of the par value of their good securities. The soundness of the securities is to be determined by clearing house associations into which the banks of each state or district are to be organized. These associations are to have charge of the securities upon which the banks may propose to issue notes, and the associations are to guarantee the payment or redemption of the notes issued under their sanction. The associations will determine what amount of notes may be issued on the basis of a stated block of securities, and will in effect endorse the notes issued. Should any bank fail to redeem its notes on presentation at its place of business, the clearing house association to which it belongs would redeem them, and would sell the securities of the bank to repay itself.

The business of the associations would be subject to examination by the agents of the comptroller in the same way that the business of the national banks is now subject to examination. The effect of such a scheme would be to give the country, in every locality, an absolutely safe note circulation. Its redemption would be prompt, and its amount would vary automatically, according to the needs of the localities. The clearing houses would operate as checks upon each other, and the system would lead to the establishment of branch banks in the smaller towns.

Mr. Atkinson says that this plan would give us the best features of the Scotch banking system. He says that one of the chief causes of the inability of the national banks to respond to the recent demand for money was the restriction compelling the banks to keep their reserve up to 25 per cent under all circumstances. This defeats the very object of a reserve, which is to use it in time of need. Such an iron-clad provision is at the bottom of our money famine.

Of course the new scheme includes the repeal of the federal tax on the circulation of state banknotes, and this feature will cause the people to regard it favorably. It deserves consideration.

The Solidity of Georgia Enterprises.

The market quotations on Georgia securities tell a wonderful tale.

Out of fifty-five stocks and securities quoted, only five bring less than par, and the offerings for these five are respectively 98 1/2, 96, 95, 88 and 77. Of the two quoted below 95, one is a second mortgage bond and the other is the common stock of a railroad company.

Of the fifty quoted above par, the range is all the way from 101 to 350, the latter figure being offered for Atlanta National bank stock, while Georgia railroad stock brings 200, several bank stocks bring 150 and the Augusta and Savannah railroad follows at 140, the Southwestern at 120 and the Central at 110. Of railroad bonds, the Atlanta and Charlotte firsts, bring 120; Georgia sixes, 115; Georgia Pacific firsts, 111, and Americus, Preston and Lumpkin 110.

The Georgia state bonds make a remarkable showing. Despite the fact that they are not admitted to the New York stock exchange, Georgia 4 1/2 per cent bonds, due in 1915, bring 118, and the 3 1/2 per cent, issued this year, bring 102 1/2 to 103 1/2, according to the length of time they run.

Of city bonds, Augusta sevens bring 115; Macon sixes, 114 1/2; Atlanta sevens, 124, sixes 112, 4 1/2 per cent held for 104; Columbus sixes, 101; Rome graded bonds 110, and Rome sixes 100.

The comparison with the stocks and bonds quoted on the New York stock exchange is striking. The average of state securities there is away below that in Georgia, and when it comes to the general run of stocks and bonds there is no comparison at all. The truth is that with all our booming there are fewer wild-cat enterprises and fewer watered stocks in the south than in any other part of the country. Railroad construction is cheaper in the south, and, as a rule, economically done. The average capitalization is less, the fixed charges less, and partly because of a more favorable climate, partly because of better contented labor and more amicable relations between employers and employees, the operating expenses are less.

The effect of the Georgia constitutional provision limiting the indebtedness of municipal and other public corporations to 7 per cent of their taxable property valuation has been to give uniform stability to city bonds.

Occasionally an unfriendly paper, which finds it impossible to be happy over southern prosperity, says something about mushroom growth and future collapses. All such croakings may be put to confusion by a simple reference to the market quotations.

The Negro as a Voter.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which, on its editorial page, is a queer mixture of fairness and partisan spite, has an interesting article on the recent election in South Carolina, which it calls a "southern election lesson."

"The election was peaceable and fair, and all the votes were counted. There was no bulldozing and no attempt at intimidation. Such negroes as took any interest in the affair knew that they were free to vote. They had every opportunity to assert their rights. They would have been welcomed as the supporters of either Haskell or Tillman, and it was in their power to make their political influence practically felt for the first time since they voted scalawags and carpet-baggers into office.

It is needless to say that they failed to take advantage of the opportunity. The great majority of them acted as if they were in ignorance of the election, and no doubt they were. They acted, indeed, just as they do all over the south, when an election is in progress. They remain away from the polls, viewing the issue with the most supreme indifference.

The Globe-Democrat, clinging to its partisan string, as it looks over the fence at Truth galloping by, says that this state of things "may be accounted for in some degree by the prolonged suppression of colored suffrage, which has probably caused the negroes, as a class, to relinquish much of their original tendency towards participation in political affairs." This is very ingenious; in fact, it is far more ingenious than the simple truth.

The impulse of the negroes in the direction of voting directly after the war was due, partly to the novelty of the thing, partly to a desire to imitate the whites and partly in response to the appeals made to them by the union leaguers, who had convinced them that the whites were making arrangements to put them back in slavery. Here in Atlanta, where the whites are in a majority, and where the negroes have never been bulldozed at all, they take little or no interest in elections. They will not even go to the polls and vote for candidates of their own color.

In short, except in a few instances, the negroes care nothing about politics and nothing about voting. The force bill is simply a scheme on the part of the republican revolutionists to count the votes of the negroes whether they cast them or not.

ANOTHER REPUBLICAN senator has declared against the force bill.

THE SECTIONS are getting closer together every year. At Bennett's Mills, New Jersey, a few nights ago, James Emmons, a young white man, was tarred and feathered by his neighbors. It seems that Emmons had been paying his addresses to a colored girl with the intention of marrying her. Slowly but surely southern civilization is marching northward.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

THE PAINFULNESS of an ADVERTISER says: "The Cleveland Leader mentions Bob Lincoln, now minister to England, as a possible republican candidate for the presidency in 1892. Perhaps, but the next time a republican party runs a presidential candidate on the record of his ancestors, and dresses him up in the old clothes of his ancestors, it will doubtless get the socks, and, perhaps, the breeches knocked off of it. The strength of the democratic party rests not in any other one thing, the fact that neither Thomas Jefferson nor Andrew Jackson left sons to perpetuate and degenerate the stock."

RATTLE OF THE RAIL.

THE OLD OFFICERS MAY CONTINUE WITH THE W. AND A.

A Long Kick and a Strong Kick Against the County Railroad Tax—A New Southern Railroad—Other Matters.

"Will any changes be made among the general officers of the Western and Atlantic when the new leases take possession?" was asked of ex-Governor Brown last evening.

"While I cannot answer the question with any degree of certainty, I am inclined to think that no changes will be made. I have received assurances from Colonel Thomas to the effect that the personnel of all offices which have in the past been filled by thoroughly competent men, will remain the same under the present regime."

"In addition to the surplus rolling stock which it is said the new lessees will purchase, will they make any purchases of new stock?"

"I think they will. While I do not wish to be quoted as an authority, yet I may say I have heard they have already made heavy purchases in that direction. They have bought 1,000 tons of seventy-pound steel rails and a large number of new and heavier engines for hauling long freight trains. They have also purchased several passenger coaches and a great many freight cars of new and improved pattern and increased capacity. I hear also that they intend replacing many of the old bridges with new ones calculated to stand the strain of heavier traffic."

"One thing the people of this section can rely on, the new lessees are all men of acknowledged business capacity and the strictest probity, and they will carry out to the letter everything they promise."

There has developed a very determined opposition to the enforcement of the law recently passed by the Georgia legislature to place a county tax on railroads.

The Georgia Southern and Florida road, Macon and Birmingham road, Georgia Midland and Gulf road, Columbus and Southern road, Atlanta and Florida road, all of which are assessed directly on their stock; and the Georgia and Western and Atlantic railroads which are assessed on incomes, have refused to pay a single cent of the tax and intend to fight the state in the courts. The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad paid its tax in four counties, then stopped short, and has gone no further. The Marietta and North Georgia has, so far, paid no tax on that portion of its road through Cobb, Cherokee, Pickens and Gilmer counties. The Richmond and Danville, Georgia Pacific and Central railroads, which have a greater mileage of road in Georgia than the rest combined, have paid, or will pay, the tax in full.

The objecting roads base their opposition upon the fact that the county tax greatly exceeds the state tax. They do not so strongly object to paying a tax on their income, but they object to the amount fixed as a state assessment, but any excess over that amount they will fight as unjust and unconstitutional.

The Tullahoma, Elk River and Huntsville Railroad Company has just received its charter in the office of the Tennessee secretary of state. The incorporators are H. Hobbs, M. V. Staley, W. M. Staley, George A. Hobbs, M. V. Staley, and Captain T. D. Gregory, of Tennessee. The authorized capital stock, $5,000,000. The route of the new road, as mapped out, runs from Tullahoma via Pylant Springs, crossing Elk River at Mann's ford, thence in a direct line to Elora, Tenn., and on to Huntsville, Ala. It takes in the best of the extensive fields of fine marble, beginning about eight miles from this place and embracing an area of over twenty square miles. The incorporators of this new and important enterprise have already secured the right of way to Elk river, a distance of some fifteen miles, and reaching beyond the marble fields.

The total earnings of the Louisville and Nashville railroad for the first two weeks of last month were $75,805, a falling off from the same period last year of $9,101.

The report is current in Cincinnati that the Baltimore and Ohio is in a fair way to acquire the eastern division of the Newport News and Mississippi Valley, running from Lexington to Huntington, 140 miles, and controlled by C. P. Huntington, and the Ohio River railroad, running from Huntington to Wheeling, 215 miles, and controlled by Senator Camden.

This would give the Baltimore and Ohio a short line via Wheeling to the blue-grass region of Kentucky and thence to the south. It is well known that these roads are for sale and that the Baltimore and Ohio has been negotiating for them, but so has the Louisville and Nashville, and this may have an important influence on the Baltimore and Ohio's deal, as these properties would be of great value to the Louisville and Nashville in connection with its recent purchase of the Kentucky Central.

Mr. S. M. Felton, Jr., recently elected president of the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific railroad, has made the following appointments:

Mr. Henry Fink first and Mr. C. C. Harvey second vice president; Richard Carroll, general manager; D. Miller, traffic manager; George B. Nicholson, chief engineer; H. H. Tatum, secretary and treasurer; R. Ryan, general freight agent; G. G. Edwards, general passenger agent, and James Meahan, superintendent of motive power.

Time and again has the announcement been made that a new solid vestibule train will "shortly" be put on between Atlanta and Washington over the Richmond and Danville. But it is now an assured fact that the train will be running on January 4th. It will consist of postal, smoking, dining, sleeping and observation cars, and including the engine will be entirely new. The observation car will be a new and taking feature in its section and will be deservedly popular. In part it will resemble the ordinary parlor coaches, but at both ends the sides and roofs are constructed of plate glass, allowing the passenger to view the surrounding country upon all sides. The entire train will be solidly vestibule, will be illuminated by the celebrated Pintsch gas system, heated by the very acme of car-heating, and will contain the foremost of modern improvements. A slight addition of plate glass, allowing the passenger to view the surrounding country upon all sides, and the entire day passed without anything worthy of particular note transpiring. Another thing testified that Hall called on him to find out the same thing as did Mr. Hill. He referred him to Mr. DeLacey, the Dodge's attorney. DeLacey referred Hall to Mr. Hill, and it was in compliance with this suggestion that Hall wrote to Mr. Hill.

Court adjourned after hearing the above testimony until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. It is probable that the prosecution will close tomorrow.

The South Brunswick Terminal Railroad.

The South Brunswick Terminal railroad will be put in operation by the 15th of next January, and will also be extended. This valuable piece of property has been standing idle ever since a short time after its completion, and was put in the hands of a receiver, but the bondholders, represented by Judge H. R. Steele and Mr. Henry Redmond, of New York, are now in Brunswick, satisfying all other claims preparatory to taking control of the property and working it.

The terminus of this road is a beautiful location for a town on the opposite side of Ogeethorpe bay from the city of Brunswick with a sufficient line of deep-water front to accommodate any number of vessels of whatever class.

Some Central Officers.

There is in upper Georgia the most earnest opposition to the reappointment of some of the officers of the Central railroad for subaltern places. Everybody seems to think that way. Mr. Sherman and Captain Whitehead could do better if they would, and other departments are similarly criticised. These men have experience and are possibly doing the best for the corporation they are working for, but the fact is apparent that much of the Central railroad's unpopularity is traceable to these men, who act as executive officers, and who say, do not recognize the fact that there are other cities in the world besides Savannah.

THE METHODISTS.

THE CLOSE OF THE SOUTH GEORGIA CONFERENCE.

After an Arduous and Profitable Session, The Appointments Read Out Last Night.

MACON, Ga., December 22.—[Special.]—Today concluded the annual conference of the South Georgia Methodist church. Tomorrow nearly all of the preachers will have returned to their respective stations.

Many will remain where they are, while many are now preparing to go to pastures new. The conference met this morning at 9 o'clock. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. T. J. Neare, after which the minutes were read and approved.

The first matter transacted was in the shape of a question of the eligibility of elders' orders of Rev. T. E. Davenport. Some discussion was entered into in this matter, but Bishop Haygood reserved his decision until later. Rev. P. S. Twitty read a report on Bible cause. Pending the adoption of the report, Rev. H. P. Styles, agent of the American Bible Society, made a brief statement of his work during the year.

At this juncture the bishop wishing to retire awhile, called Rev. T. J. Christian to the chair.

Rev. G. G. McDonald then read the report of the board of missions, touching the organization of the board. The same officer was re-elected, and on recommendation of the report, Rev. A. M. Williams, was elected treasurer of said board. Adopted.

Rev. B. F. Breeding read the report of the Sunday school board. The report was adopted.

D. F. Riley read the report of the treasurer of the Sunday school board. Adopted.

Rev. W. C. Munford read the report of district conference records. Adopted.

Bishop Haygood returned to the chair, and Rev. T. J. Christian then read a speech and statement concerning The Wesleyan Christian Advocate.

Rev. George C. Thompson read report No. 3 on books and periodicals. Adopted.

Rev. J. H. McManis read the report of the church, was introduced to the conference.

Dr. Clark called from the table the resolutions concerning Christmas festivities. After a long discussion the resolution was, on motion, indefinitely postponed.

The bishop here announced the joint board of clerical affairs as follows:

Rev. J. H. McManis, McK. F. McCook, T. J. Christian, C. E. Downman, C. H. Branch, W. A. Huckleback, J. M. Lovett, J. R. Owen, J. W. Weston.

Rev. J. W. Weston, R. F. Burden, A. McManis, W. D. Dyer, J. E. Dickerson, J. L. Day, J. V. Truitt, E. N. Orr, J. I. Ikts.

At this juncture Dr. Clark proceeded to take a collection for the widow of R. B. Bryan.

Rev. W. Hinton asked for Rev. J. B. Wright a location, which was granted.

Rev. Bass read a resolution from the committee on education and moved the adoption of a resolution, which was carried.

Rev. J. W. Anthony, agent of the sustentation fund, made a report concerning his work. He also asked to be relieved from the duty of agent.

Rev. J. B. McGhee read a report from the sustentation fund. Adopted.

Rev. J. B. Culpeper, after a speech of some length, asked for a location. This step on the part of Mr. Culpeper aroused the sympathy of the conference, and on motion, he was asked to withdraw his request, which he did. After many thanks Mr. Culpeper was referred to the committee on conference relations for a superannuation relation. Mrs. W. M. Wightman represented the training school for home missions, and Mrs. Wiley represented the women's department of church extension and parsonage societies.

The above closed the deliberations of the annual conference of the South Georgia Methodist church, with the exception of the reading of the appointments.

THE THIRD WEEK

Of the Interminable Hall Case—It will Continue Several Weeks.

MACON, Ga., December 22.—[Special.]—It goes forward. The third week of the conspiracy trial began this morning.

Interest in the case is undiminished. The courtroom was packed as usual.

The first witness called this morning was W. L. Limpo. He was put up by the prosecution.

Limpo testified that he had seen some of the defendants at Lancaster & Bohannon's mill. He had seen them often in close conversation.

The next witness was W. A. Morgan, who testified that he saw Birch in Eastman about circus time. He did not remember the exact day. He knew nothing of the circumstances of the killing or the conspiracy.

He was followed on the stand by Samuel Rogers, who testified that Andy Caldwell, and Lem Burch, he thought it was Burch, came to the store in Eastman one morning about day. They held a conversation, after which they went off.

Andy Caldwell is a brother-in-law of Lem Burch. He was next put on the stand. He said he went to Hawkinsville to borrow the money to give to Lowrey. He was not able to obtain it in Hawkinsville so he went to Eastman, where he borrowed it from Judge Roberts.

The next witness was Mr. O. N. Dana, who works at J. W. Burke & Co.'s printing establishment, in this city. He testified that he recognized certain deeds that were handed him by the district attorney.

IT HAS GONE UP.

A LOCAL THEATER TROUP THAT DIDN'T PAN OUT.

The Manager of Foster's Magnificent Carnival Company Gen. and the Show Falls into the Soup.

There is a stranded show in town. And there is a good story in it. The show is of the minstrel-operatic-dramatic order.

Or rather it was. It was a show where the woodbine twined, and a half dozen or so "professionals," who were brought to Atlanta to take part in it, are in the soup.

In fact they are very deeply in the soup. If they get out of town with any lining to their trunks they will be in luck.

"Foster's Magnificent Carnival Company." That was the pretentious title of the combination, which was composed of a pair of southerners and a dozen or so white-faced artists.

And there was a contention. But he will not content for fame before the flaming footlights of Ponce de Leon opera house as one of the stars of the carnival combination, but yesterday began an engagement to do the "split" act in Ryan's show window.

There may not have been as much fame in the show window scene, but the timber-lined contortionist was certain of supper last night. As one of the Foster magnificents he might have fared worse.

Then the leading lady—Mademoiselle Francis, the bewitching prima donna and unequalled queen of tragedy—the chances are that her Jenny Lind voice will, for a while yet, at least remain an unknown quantity in the operatic world.

And the end men will sadly pack up their half-sold jokes and resign their gaunt humor to a state of innocuous desuetude.

The curly-headed southerner will return to her trade again—pasting yellow labels on chewing gum boxes.

The leader of the band is now a candidate for any kind of a job, and the rolynd middle man's only desire is for a very sequestered place in some vast wilderness, where, without fear of interruption, he can unloose the fount of his distress and then rehearse his part in the show that never showed—for consolation.

Yesterday the festive drama major was looking for somebody who didn't know him, and the song-and-dance artist was busy learning a new verse of "Little Annie Rooney" in the key of B-flat.

The manager had an engagement at Ponce de Leon springs, and the advance agent spent the day in feasting his eyes on the second hand posters of Primrose & West's minstrels, whistling in a melancholy key the truly poetic words:

Of all the sad words, etc.—It might have been.

Last, but not least, the hotel proprietor figured in the finale of the "Foster's Magnificent."

He gnashed his teeth and sawed the air in the very anger of disappointment.

"In swampon up stumpum non est comestible."

To use one of the grey bearded-witticisms that the red-headed end man on the right hand side had in store for his unsuspecting audience that were to be, that was the condition of the baggage.

And the hotel man was in the soup, too. The facts are these.

The combination was organized a month or so ago by Manager Foster, partly of local talent and partly of talent brought from abroad.

After practicing a month or so, purchasing numerous costumes and contracting sundry other debts the combination was about ready to strike out to try its "pretence hand," so to speak.

But just at this critical period the funds gave out and Manager Foster was suddenly taken sick.

This happened the latter part of last week, since which time there have been any number of desperate efforts to revive the expiring theatrical venture.

But it died yesterday too dead for possible resurrection.

And now the embryonic Patis and Dixons are wandering minstrels in the midst of Atlanta.

Part of the paraphernalia is in soak, and the heart-broken ballad has even had his finger in the pie.

The carnival company is busted, and several well-known Atlanta young men and women are sad thereat.

Parents don't mean to be unkind to their children, but they are when they fail to occasionally give them Dr. Bull's Worm Destroyers.

DOBBS--HAHR.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING IN MARIETTA YESTERDAY.

In Which Several Atlanta People Take Part. Wooden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Richards--Other News.

The Presbyterian church in Marietta was the scene of a happy wedding yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The contracting parties were Mr. Herbert Clifton Dobbs and Miss Anna Von Schele Hahr, two of Marietta's most popular and delightful society people.

The church was beautifully decorated, and was filled with the friends of the bride and groom. A beautiful wedding ball of green and white roses with a mistletoe dagger was admitted by all. A large number of Atlantians were present. The bride and groom left on the 5:15 o'clock train for a tour of south Georgia and Florida. The attendants were: J. M. Dobbs, Miss Emma Hahr; E. P. Dobbs, Miss Maggie Hahr, Maxey Dobbs, Miss Louise Romare; Willie Hahr, Miss Hattie Whitlock; Henry Reynolds, Columbus, Ga.; Miss Lettie Glover; Call Johnson, Macon, Ga.; Miss Pauline Romare; R. O. Campbell, Atlanta; Miss Maibelle Glover; R. W. Boone, Miss Lizzie Montgomery, of Jessup.

The ushers were: Marcus H. Field, Canton, Ga.; Walter Dobbs, Atlanta; H. B. Dick and Joe Boston, Marietta.

A wooden wedding anniversary was celebrated most delightfully last evening by Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Richards at their pleasant home.

The house was delightfully decorated with holly, mistletoe and bows of cut flowers. The dining room was decorated with palms, holly and grapes. The table was ornamented with an oblong arrangement in the center and bunches of white hyacinths and white ribbon at the opposite corners. The menu was dainty and much enjoyed. Mrs. Richards is a skilful housekeeper, as well as a musician and charming hostess, and the evening passed off most delightfully.

Mrs. Richards appeared in a handsome toilet of black silk on train, and Miss Congdon, her guest, wore a Paris gown of black crepe de chine embroidered with wild roses and forget-me-nots.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards were assisted in entertaining by Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace, Miss Emma Richards, Miss Marie DuBoise Congdon, Miss Emma Jones, Miss Emma Tulla, and Miss DeLoach.

Warm music dispensed during the entire evening which added much to the pleasure of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards were the recipients of many elegant presents and hearty congratulations.

The many friends of Miss Maude Watson will be glad to learn that she is quite ill with pneumonia.

Miss Marie DuBoise Congdon is visiting Mrs. R. H. Richards. Miss Congdon is a very gifted young lady and also a very charming one.

Miss Nellie Ball has returned to her home after a delightful visit with friends in Rome.

Mrs. W. B. Crosby of Louisville, Ky., arrived this morning and will stay a few days with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Davis at No. 13 Baltimore place.

The Home for the Friendless has under its immediate care at the home, at the Industrial school, at training schools, etc., sixty-five children. It is desired to remember each of these on Christmas Day with some useful and appropriate present, and the public is invited to contribute for this purpose. Shoes and clothing are especially needed. Food and fuel are also needed for the inmates of the home.

It has been suggested that parties who have been in the habit of donating to professional beggars of the city, send their contributions to the Home for the Friendless, and refer these applicants to this source for relief. It is thought that in this way the worthy poor will be the more likely to be benefited, and there will be less chance for imposition on the part of the unprincipled. All cases reported will be carefully investigated.

Report donations and, if desired, they will be called for. Report donations of clothing to Mrs. M. R. Berry, 47 Walton street; provisions, fuel, etc., to Mrs. Will Haight, 210 Houston street.

The H. R. Echols Literary Society meets tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the Calhoun street school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Littlefield, Jr., with their son, Master Wells, of St. Louis, Mo., are visiting Mrs. W. F. Crusselle, 35 Meritt avenue.

Cards are out for the marriage of Hon. John Temple Graves to Miss Anne Elizabeth Cushman, of Rome. The ceremony will be performed at the residence of Captain H. D. Cushman in East Rome, on the evening of December 30th.

Mr. Graves, who is now in New York where he went to deliver an address at the New England banquet, will bring fresh laurels for his wedding day.

The Evening Commercial, of Bangor, Me., in describing the opening of the "Clemenceau Case," at the theater in that city, says that the best people of the city were out, and that the ladies and children attended in large numbers. The Commercial says that this version of the famous play is entirely different from that which made it so noted throughout the country, and that there is nothing whatever in it to offend the taste of the most fastidious. The first night in Bangor was a pronounced success.

DARBYS PROPHYLACTIC FLUID. Use it in every Sick-room for Safety, Cleanliness and Comfort.

It will purify the air and render it wholesome. The removal of the effluvia which are always given off in the sick-room promotes the recovery of the patient and the safety and comfort of the physician and attendant. Persons waiting on the sick should use it freely. Water in which the sick are bathed should contain a small quantity of the fluid—it will render the skin soft and pleasant, allay itching, prevent bed sores, sores, etc., removing all heat and irritation together with any unhealthful or offensive emanations from the body.

Vanderbilt University, Tenn.: As a disinfectant and detergent Darby's Prophylactic Fluid is superior to any preparation with which I am acquainted.—H. T. LUTTON, Professor of Chemistry.

J. Marion Sims, M. D., New York: I am convinced that Darby's Prophylactic Fluid is a most valuable disinfectant. —JAMES HURST, top col n m

THE SUPREME COURT.

DECISIONS RENDERED SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1890.

Reported for The Constitution by Peoples and Stevens, Reporters of the Court.

Woodruff et al. v. Georgia Pacific Railway Company. Negligence. Railroad. Charge of court—Before Judge Van Epps, City court of Atlanta.

Blandford, J.—Where on the trial of an action against a railroad company for a homicide the evidence adduced by the defendant itself showed that its servants were negligent, it was error to charge the jury that "if the company did not intend to kill, it was not negligent as charged in the declaration, and the plaintiff's father was killed notwithstanding, his children cannot recover."

Hoke & Barton Smith, for plaintiffs. Jackson & Jackson, for defendant.

Georgia Railroad Co. v. Dougherty. Passengers. Railroads. Damages. Negligence. Charge of court. Verdict. Before Judge Eve, City court of Richmond county.

Blandford, J.—The plaintiff purchased at night from the agent of the railroad company a ticket for passage over its road to Atlanta, paying for the same. When called upon, she presented this ticket to the conductor, but it appearing to be for passage to Asheville, N. C., he declined to allow her to proceed. She stated to him the circumstances under which she bought the ticket, and the fact that her trunk had been checked to Atlanta on the ticket, and that she had no money with which to pay fare; but he refused to allow her to proceed, and from which she had to walk about two and a half miles to secure a place to lodge. She was an old and infirm colored woman, in her health, and going to Atlanta on account of her husband's death. Held:

1. A verdict in her favor against the company for $1,000 damages, was neither contrary to law or evidence, nor excessive.

2. The plaintiff, having applied for the proper ticket, was entitled to rely upon the one delivered to her by the agent, as the proper ticket, without examining it, there being no intervening circumstances requiring her to do so. 17 Ga. 673; 31 N. W. Rep. 544.

3. A charge that "if she asked for the ticket and there was no mistake on her part in calling for it, and the wrong ticket was given her, then it was the fault of the railroad company," was not contrary to law.

4. The evidence was sufficient to authorize the giving in charge of sections 3096, 3067 of the code, on the subject of aggravation and vindictive damages.

5. Requests to charge which assumed that the plaintiff was chargeable with the consequences of the agent's mistake in delivering to her the wrong ticket, because such mistake might have been discovered by looking at it, were properly refused.

Judgment affirmed. Simmons, J. dissenting.

J. B. Cumming and Bryan Cumming, for plaintiff in error. M. P. Foster, contra.

Herdon v. Strickland. Private ways. Prescription. Before Judge Lumpkin, City court of Atlanta.

Blandford, J.—Where application was made to the county commissioners to have a certain way over the land of another declared a private way, and objections were made, and on the hearing it was not shown that the applicant had any prescriptive right to the use of the way, but on the contrary it appeared that the use which was claimed by him and those under whom he claimed was merely permissive and was not constant and uninterrupted for seven years, a petition to set aside the order of the commissioners directing "that the private way be declared permanent," should have been sustained. The code, §720 et seq., prescribes the manner in which private ways may be opened, but the law does not authorize the ordinary or county commissioners to declare a private way to be permanent.

Judgment reversed.

Join P. Shanon for plaintiff in error. M. P. Reese, G. C. Grogan and H. J. Brewer, contra.

Silvey & Co. v. Chambliss. Chm. Title. Husband and wife. Attorney and client. Before Judge Hutchins. Gwinnett superior court.

Blandford, J.—The evidence plainly showing that the title to the property levied on was in the defendant in the execution (the husband of the claimant), and that she so recognized by taking a mortgage on the property from him to herself, a verdict in her favor was contrary to law and evidence. Though the mortgage may have been foreclosed without her knowledge or consent, it is not shown that the attorney who acted for her was not in fact her attorney.

Judgment reversed.

C. H. Brand, for plaintiffs. F. P. Hudson, contra.

Crawford et al., commissioners, v. Glasgow et al. County matters. Militia districts. Before Judge Milner. Bartow superior court.

Blandford, J.—Under the act of 1874 establishing the board of commissioners for Bartow county (acts 1874, p. 330), those commissioners have no power to establish or change any of the militia districts of the county. Expressio unius exclusio alterius. Code, §837.

Judgment affirmed.

M. R. Stansell, for plaintiffs in error. Akin & Harris, contra.

Mann v. Thompson. Vendor and purchaser. Sales. Title. Before Judge Milner. Catosa superior court.

Blandford, J.—Where in 1890 a sale in parcels and delivery of a yoke of oxen were made, upon the condition that when the vendee paid for them they were to be his, and the contract was not reduced to writing, the property was subject to levy and sale under an execution against the vendee from a judgment obtained in 1887. Code, §1905 (a). 71 Ga. 88, distinguished.

Judgment reversed.

R. J. McCarty, for plaintiff. No appearance contra.

Monroe v. Simmons. Administrators. Accounts. Limitations. Minor. Before Judge Gohr. Pickens superior court.

Blandford, J.—One who was born in 1857 and for whom a guardian was appointed in 1886, was not barred of recovery from the surety of his father's administrator, in a suit commenced on the 29th of August, 1887, his father having died in December, 1857, or January, 1858; the administrator having sold the estate, settled with all the heirs at law except the plaintiff, left Georgia prior to 1885 and since resided out of the state; and the guardian never having received anything from him on account of the plaintiff's interest, and having died when the plaintiff reached majority. The administrator's account was not accounted with the plaintiff while he was a minor and had no guardian; and there having been no breach of the administrator's bond prior to 1886, no right of action had accrued to the plaintiff; and the failure of the guardian to sue for his interest will not operate to his prejudice. This differs from a case where an infant legatee, heir at law or beneficiary is barred by the failure of the executor, administrator or trustee to sue within the time required. Acts 1892, p. 133; Code, §229; 7 Ga. 517; 61 Ga. 32.

Judgment reversed.

J. B. Baker, for plaintiff. C. D. Phillips and W. H. Simmons, for defendant.

East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railway Company. Railroads. Charge of court. Evidence. Before Judge Milner. Whitfield superior court.

Blandford, J.—1. The verdict was in accordance with law and evidence. 2. A charge by the court as to the measure of damages, which it appears did not injure the plaintiff in error, does not furnish a good ground for new trial.

3. It appearing that the injury occurred because the railroad company violated the law in running its train to and over a crossing in an illegal manner, it was not error for the court to refuse to charge the jury that, to make the company liable, the failure to comply with the law must operate as a cause of the injury, and if the latter, and the substitution of another in his stead, without the consent of the company would be liable, otherwise it would not.

4. The admission of evidence as to damages on account of the loss of hire of the horse in question, if error at all, was not such error as would give the plaintiff in error a right to complain, it not appearing that the jury allowed any damages for such loss of hire and the amount of damages found being fully authorized by the evidence as to the injury to the wagon and mules, which damages were sufficiently alleged in the declaration.

Judgment affirmed.

Bacon & Rutherford, Dorsey & Howell and Maddox & Longley, for plaintiff in error. R. J. & J. McCarty, contra.

King v. State. Murder. Criminal law. Evidence. Before Judge Milner. Gordon superior court.

Blandford, J.—This conviction of murder was without evidence to support it. The evidence, which is circumstantial, though affording a supposition of guilt of the accused, shows no motive on his part to commit the crime and does not connect him therewith, if any was committed; nor is it sufficiently strong to exclude from the mind of the jury every reasonable doubt as to his guilt, or every reasonable hypothesis other than that of his guilt.

Judgment reversed.

W. R. Rankin, E. J. Kiker and T. C. Milner, for plaintiff in error.

G. N. Lester, attorney-general, A. W. Pitts, solicitor-general, and F. Cantrell, contra.

Crawford v. Ryals. Nonsuit. Practice. Jurisdiction. Before Judge Ataway. City court of Caswell county.

Blandford, J.—It was not error to refuse to nonsuit the case, as there was sufficient evidence to authorize its being submitted to the jury, and the fact that the plaintiff was not in the law or the evidence.

2. The action was brought in the city court of Caswell county, to recover damages for killing, within an enclosure not enclosed by a lawful fence, a cow alleged to be worth $20 and a calf alleged to be worth $10, the suit being, under the statute, for three times the value of the estate. In his argument to the jury the plaintiff's counsel having stated that he would not insist upon the verdict for damages for the killing of the calf, the defendant moved to dismiss the action, because the claim of the plaintiff was not reduced to under $100, and the court had no jurisdiction of an amount under $100. Thereupon the plaintiff's counsel, before any judgment was rendered on the motion to dismiss, said he would insist upon damages for the killing of the calf. Held, that it was not error to then overrule the motion to dismiss.

Judgment affirmed.

M. R. Stansell, for plaintiff in error. J. A. Baker, contra.

Moore & Co. v. Huggins, adm'r. Complaint. New trial. Practice in supreme court. Practice act of 1880. Bill of exceptions. Before Judge Wellborn. Hall superior court.

Blandford, J.—1. This was the first grant of a new trial. It was not error to grant it; and if errors were committed on the former trial or if it is presumed they will be corrected on the next.

2. Where the bill of exceptions specified that all of the evidence embraced in the brief of evidence was material to a clear understanding of the errors complained of, and was specifically referred to and made a part of the bill of exceptions, and that the petition, plea, motion for new trial, brief of the evidence, and the affidavit of a certain named person as to newly discovered evidence, were parts of the record material to a clear understanding of the errors complained of, and the certificate of the judge was to the effect that the bill of exceptions was true and contained all the evidence and specified all the errors material to a clear understanding of the errors complained of, and directed the clerk of the superior court to make up a copy of such parts of the record as were in the bill of exceptions specified, etc., the act of November 11, 1889, was complied with.

(a) The brief of the evidence filed upon motion for new trial, is a part of the record and may be specified as such as a whole.

Judgment affirmed.

T. W. Rucker and S. C. Dunlap, for plaintiffs.

A. S. Erwin, F. M. Johnson, J. L. Hopkins, for defendant.

Hudson v. Pnett. Evidence. Subscribing witnesses. Before Judge Wellborn. Hall superior court.

Blandford, J.—A written contract to which there was a subscribing witness, was properly rejected as evidence, there being no evidence offered to show why the witness was not produced, nor to prove his signature to the contract.

Judgment affirmed.

G. H. Prior and W. S. Pickrell, by J. B. Estes, for plaintiff in error.

W. T. Findley and H. L. Patterson, contra.

Statham v. State. Riot. New trial. Newly discovered evidence. Before Judge Hutchins. Jackson superior court.

Blandford, J.—The evidence being sufficient to connect the defendant with the offense charged against him, and the alleged newly discovered evidence being that of persons who participated in the offense, but who swore that he did not, and no sufficient reason being shown why they did not testify on the trial of the case, it was not error to refuse to grant the defendant a new trial, asked for upon the ground of such newly discovered evidence. 84 Ga. 17.

Judgment affirmed.

W. I. Pike and J. B. Estes, for plaintiff in error. R. B. Russell, solicitor-general, contra.

Georgia Railroad Company v. Brown. Railroads. Negligence. Fellow-servants. Before Judge Koonce. Richmond superior court.

Blandford, J.—1. The verdict is sustained by evidence and law, although the evidence is somewhat conflicting. 2. The injury sued for having been caused by the falling of a piece of timber upon the foot of plaintiff in the shop of defendant, where he was employed, by the alleged negligence of a co-employee it was not error to refuse to charge: "If the injury to the plaintiff would not have resulted except by the negligence of a fellow-servant, and such negligence of the fellow-servant caused the injury, he cannot recover." Georgia railroad v. Ivey, 73 Ga. 499, reviewing Central railroad v. Thompson, 64 Ga. 509, considered, and affirmed.

Judgment affirmed.

J. B. Cumming and Bryan Cumming, for plaintiff in error. Twigg & Verdery, contra.

Bishop v. State. Assault. Criminal law. Before Judge Lumpkin. Tallapoosa superior court.

Blandford, J.—One may commit an assault upon another by attempting to commit a violent injury upon him; and, if before the commission of the injury or battery, but after the attempt to do so, he is seized by reason of the importunities of the person assaulted or by reason of other facts or circumstances, he would not relieve him from being guilty of an assault.

Judgment affirmed.

H. M. Holden, for plaintiff in error. W. M. Howard, solicitor-general, by J. H. Lumpkin, contra.

Georgia Railroad Company v. Thompson. Railroads. Baggage. Before Judge Hines. Tallapoosa superior court.

Blandford, J.—1. The verdict was not contrary to law or to evidence. 2. It was not error to charge that "if defendant (the railroad company) failed to deliver it (the trunk), and undertook to deposit it in its warehouse, the liability of the railroad would be that of a warehouseman; and it would be bound to use ordinary diligence in taking care of it; and if it failed, the plaintiff would be entitled to recover."

Judgment affirmed.

J. B. Cumming, Bryan Cumming and M. P. Reese, for plaintiff in error.

H. M. Holden and James Whitehead, contra.

Fowler v. Jackson et al. Arbitration and award. Umpire. Exceptions. Denumer. Practice. Before Judge Hutchins. Gwinnett superior court.

Blandford, J.—1. After an umpire had been duly selected by arbitrators, and had been sworn as such, the discharge of such umpire from the consideration of the case, at the instance and request of plaintiff, and the substitution of another in his stead, without the consent of defendant, did not furnish a good ground for an exception to the award, it not appearing that the defendant made any objection to such other person acting as umpire, and the defendant having gone on and submitted his case to the arbitrators with such other acting as umpire, without objection.

2. Where the suit was for damages to the lands of plaintiff and to his crops and also for expenses incurred by plaintiff in ditching the lands, clearing the ditches, etc., and the submission provided that the award to be made should cover "all damages to lands, crops, etc.," and exception to the award upon the ground that the arbitrators awarded damages for the "crops and lands and expenses incurred in ditching, etc.," was not well-taken.

3. The finding of the arbitrators being authorized by the articles of submission, and exception to the award, on the ground that the evidence showed that the supposed damages of plaintiff could not be more than the imaginary or possible result of defendant's acts and were therefore too remote to be the basis of a recovery, should have been stricken on demurrer.

4. Exceptions which complained that the award was the result of fraud, accident or mistake, or that it was otherwise illegal, being exceptions of law and not of fact.

(b) If the exceptions had been that the award was contrary to the evidence, then a full and complete brief of the evidence (or such a brief as the law requires) should have been filed, and it does not appear that such a brief was filed.

Judgment reversed.

C. H. Brand and T. M. Peoples, for plaintiff. N. L. Hutchins, Jr., and S. J. Winn for defendant.

NOTICE

To All Parties Who Contemplate Going to Louisiana or Texas.

The Queen and Crescent route is the shortest, quickest, cheapest and best line to all points west. Do not ask you to look at our map to prove to you that our line is the shortest. You can take the map of all other lines leading to Texas and you will see that they give us almost an air-line from Atlanta to Fort Worth, Tex., passing through Birmingham, Meridian, Vicksburg and Shreveport, or New Orleans. This line being the shortest, of course it is the quickest, and it being the quickest, you know it is the cheapest, and being the cheapest it is the best line.

Why, just think of this, only two changes of cars Atlanta to Fort Worth, Tex., on all of our regular trains. The Queen and Crescent route makes special low rates to all emigrants moving west. Emigrants going this line are put in first-class coaches, baggage checked through to destination. One hundred and fifty pounds of baggage checked free with each whole ticket; seventy-five pounds to each half ticket. Agents of this line will meet emigrants at the nearest railroad station with through tickets and through check, and will accompany them to Atlanta and see that they are put on the fast limited train for the west. Parties desiring information, send for maps, books and time cards, also county maps of Arkansas and Texas, and all other information, can obtain same by writing to or calling on S. C. East, So. East. THE CHRISTMAS TREE.

THE NAMES OF THE BOYS TAKEN

And There Are Something Over 250 Who

Will Be Present—Contributors Will Send in Their Presents Today.

The newboys will be on hand in force tomorrow. Their names were taken by Mr. Fred

Allen Sunday morning when an army of them was waiting at THE CONSTITUTION office for the Sunday paper. There are something over 250 by actual count of the names on file.

The programme will be this:

The newboys will meet at THE CONSTITUTION office at 12 o'clock tomorrow and will march in two columns. One column composed of the white boys will go to Concordia hall, and the other, composed of the negro boys will go to Mystic hall at the corner of Edgewood avenue and Butler streets.

When they arrive at their respective halls

the Christmas dinner will be ready and the boys will proceed to discuss it with as little noise as possible. There are so many that it will be necessary to go in ranks until they are arranged at the table. When the dinner has been disposed of and the restless spirits quieted somewhat, they will be introduced to the Christmas tree, on which each one will find something. Newboys who were not present and whose names were not taken Sunday, will call at THE CONSTITUTION office today and give their names to Mr. Fred Allen. So far as can be ascertained, the list is complete now, but if any newboy has not given his name to Mr. Allen already he is requested to do so today.

Send in Your Presents Today.

Those who contributed presents for the newboys' Christmas tree are requested to send them to THE CONSTITUTION office today.

If there is anything of such bulk that you cannot conveniently send it, notify us by telephone, and it will be sent for.

It is necessary to get the presents in today in order that everything may be arranged in time and there may be no confusion on Thursday. Therefore let the contributors attend to it as early in the day as they can.

"It leads them all," is the general reply of doctors when asked about the merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

False Warnings.

There are knaves now and then met with who represent certain local bitters and poisons simply as identical with or possessing properties akin to those of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

These scoundrels succeed in foisting their trashy compounds upon people unacquainted with the genuine article, which is as much their crime as day is to night. Ask and take no substitute for the grand remedy for malaria, dyspepsia, constipation, rheumatism and kidney trouble.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

Cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion & Debility.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, biliousness or constipation, you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable; small and easy to take. Don't forget this.

to health—sufferers from the worst forms of Skin and Scalp Diseases,

Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, and all manner of blood-taints. It's done by Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery, which purifies and enriches the blood, and through it cleanses and renews the whole system. Even Lung-scrofula (known as Pulmonary Consumption) yields to it, if taken in time and given a fair trial. It's guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or money paid for it is refunded. Only a medicine that does what is claimed for it, could be sold on such terms.

No other medicine, besides the "Discovery" has undertaken it.

So positively certain is it in its curative effects as to warrant its makers in selling it, as they are doing, through druggists, on trial!

A NEW PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Two Members of the Board of Police Commissioners to Be Selected—A Veto.
The Electric Committee.

The next organization of the board of education is attracting a great deal of attention just now.

The presidency of the board appears to be a coveted prize.

Hon. W. A. Hemphill, mayor-elect, is the present president, but with his qualifying as mayor he will relinquish the chairmanship of the board.

Then the election of his successor will take place, probably at the first meeting of the board in January.

Just now there are two gentlemen prominently mentioned for the chairmanship. They are Mr. Anton Kontz and Mr. Hoke Smith.

Police Commission.

In March the general council will be called upon to elect two members of the board of police commissioners.

Mr. Walter Brown and Mr. John Stevens' terms then expire.

Both gentlemen will more than likely be candidates for re-election. In fact, both have expressed a desire to be returned to the board.

But there will be a warm contest for each chair. On the south side, where Mr. Brown resides, Mr. E. P. Chamberlain and Mr. William Laird are prominently mentioned, and both are carefully watching the field.

Mr. Stevens from the north side has been a member of the board for seven or eight years, and like Mr. Brown has been one of its most efficient members. Mr. T. J. Buchanan and Mr. W. C. Watson are the candidates desiring Mr. Stevens' chair.

Another Veto.

Mayor Glenn has written another veto. At the last meeting of the general council H. R. Wolfe, a liquor dealer on Mitchell street, asked to have $113.40, amount of an unused liquor license returned to him. The council granted the petition, but Mayor Glenn didn't agree with that body, and expressed himself this way:

I enter my veto to your action at the last meeting which was concurred in by the aldermanic council, referring to H. R. Wolfe $113.40, the portion of his liquor license which he did not use.

In my opinion it would be setting a bad precedent on the part of the city to return portions of licenses which the holders do not use. It has never been the custom, though it may have been done once or twice in the past, and it should not become so. Every man who fails in business, or whose business does not pay, or who becomes dissatisfied with it for any reason, would apply to you for the return of his unused license, and in many cases, as it is now with Mr. Wolfe, creditors would serve the city with garnishments, and get their mixed up in all kinds of litigation.

When a license is issued, it becomes a contract to which both parties are bound, and I see no reason for relieving one of the parties from it.

To Meet Today.

The electric committee of the general council has been called together this afternoon.

The call was issued yesterday by Hon. James G. Woodward, chairman.

The meeting will take place in the mayor's office at 3 o'clock, and an audience will be given quite a number of second ward citizens.

The question to be considered is the changing of the tracks of the Atlanta Street Car Company from Jones street, where the cars have been running for years, to Peters street.

Proper owners on Jones street and the vicinity object to the change and will be given a full hearing before the committee this afternoon.

PURE CANDIES.

Mr. George E. Johnson, at 59 East Alabama Street, Makes Them.

Fresh candies.

Strictly pure candies.

The very best candies that can be found in the south.

They are made by Mr. George E. Johnson, who has a reputation all over the state as being strictly a first-class candy manufacturer.

Yesterday a CONSTITUTION reporter had a talk with Mr. Johnson and learned many interesting things about candy and candy-making.

"Yes, I use the very best materials in making all grades of candies. The people have found that out, and my patronage is consequently all that could be demanded. In fact, I cannot make it as fast as I can sell it."

Yesterday there was a constant rush all day at his store. He stated a few days ago that he would give a package of candy to all poor people in Atlanta who were unable to pay for it. Yesterday he gave away several hundred packages, and the good work will go on tomorrow and the next day.

Many a home in Atlanta will be made happy this Christmas on account of this action of Mr. Johnson.

Tomorrow and day after he offers the choicest candies of all kinds at reasonable prices, and the people may feel assured that in buying from him, they will get exactly what they want. Remember the place is 59 East Alabama street, and that only the best, only the freshest, only the purest candies are made and sold.

No Christmas and New Year's table should be without a bottle of Angostura Bitters, the world renowned appetizer of exquisite flavor. Beware of counterfeits.

BRONCHITIS

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

is an inflammation of the bronchial tubes—the air-passages leading into the lungs. Few other complaints are so prevalent, or call for more prompt and energetic action. As neglect or delay may result seriously, effective remedies should always be at hand. Apply at once a mustard poultice to the upper part of the chest, and for internal treatment, take frequent doses of

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine, saying he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and within a week, we were out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This indisputable evidence of the great merit of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has given me unbounded confidence in the preparation, and I recommend it to my customers, knowing it cannot disappoint them."

"Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cured me of a bad cough and my partner of bronchitis. I know of numerous cases in which this preparation has proved very beneficial in families of so that the medicine is known among them as the "cousin of the angels."—Jaine Eufill, San Cristobal, San Domingo.

"A short time ago, I was taken with a severe attack of bronchitis. The remedies ordinarily used in such cases failed to give me relief. Almost in despair, one day I found anything to cure me. I bought a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was helped from the first dose. I had not finished one bottle before the disease left me, and my throat and lungs were as sound as ever."—Geo. B. Hunter, Altoona, Pa.
